

The Crossing

The Crossing is an interdenominational campus ministry on the UW-Madison Campus for some 500 students and non-students alike. The administration wanted an attractive site, but it had to be functional. They also needed the extra power that a fully database-driven site can provide, as their prior had gotten out of date. This project met with one challenge after another and its current state is a testament to dedication, perseverance, and an overriding ambition to be excellent regardless of the challenges along the way.
